

Win a $500 Grant for Your School: Send Us Your StudentTracker for High Schools Story by Dec. 18th

Dear NASSP member and StudentTracker for High Schools user,

Could your school use an extra $500? If so, don't miss this opportunity from the National Student Clearinghouse and NASSP to win one of two $500 grants to cover your existing StudentTracker subscription fee and/or other educational expenses.

Your Story Can Help Your School and Other Schools Win!

The Clearinghouse and NASSP are working together to help the nation's principals maximize their use of StudentTracker to better understand and foster their students' educational pathways. Winning stories will be shared by the Clearinghouse and NASSP with other high schools nationwide to help them learn how they can use data from StudentTracker for High Schools to empower their career and college readiness programs.

Send Us Your Story by Friday, Dec. 18th

We want to hear your story on how using StudentTracker for High Schools has benefited your school and/or educational program(s). Email your submission – including your name and title, school name, and the city/town and state where it's located – to James Dundas at jamesdundas@studentclearinghouse.org by 11:59 pm, ET, on Friday, December 18.

Please limit your story to 800 words or less. Your entry should address the following three questions:

1. How has understanding your students' postsecondary educational journeys created better insights into the effectiveness of your programs?
2. How have you been able to improve your programs by using this data/reports over time?
3. What would you tell school leaders at other institutions who are curious about StudentTracker for High Schools and perhaps considering subscribing to the service?

A panel comprising staff members from the Clearinghouse and NASSP will review each submission to determine the two winning entries. Each winning school will receive a $500 educational grant, courtesy of the Clearinghouse, that can be used to cover their StudentTracker subscription fee and/or for other educational expenses. (By emailing your entry to us, your school gives the Clearinghouse and NASSP permission to share your story.)

We can't wait to receive your entry and learn how you are using StudentTracker data to help your students and school succeed! Don't forget to email your entry by Dec. 18, 11:59 pm, ET. If you have questions, please contact James Dundas at jamesdundas@studentclearinghouse.org.
